

Food Literacy Center

Cooking School Ribbon Cutting Personal Sponsorships

About Food Literacy Center

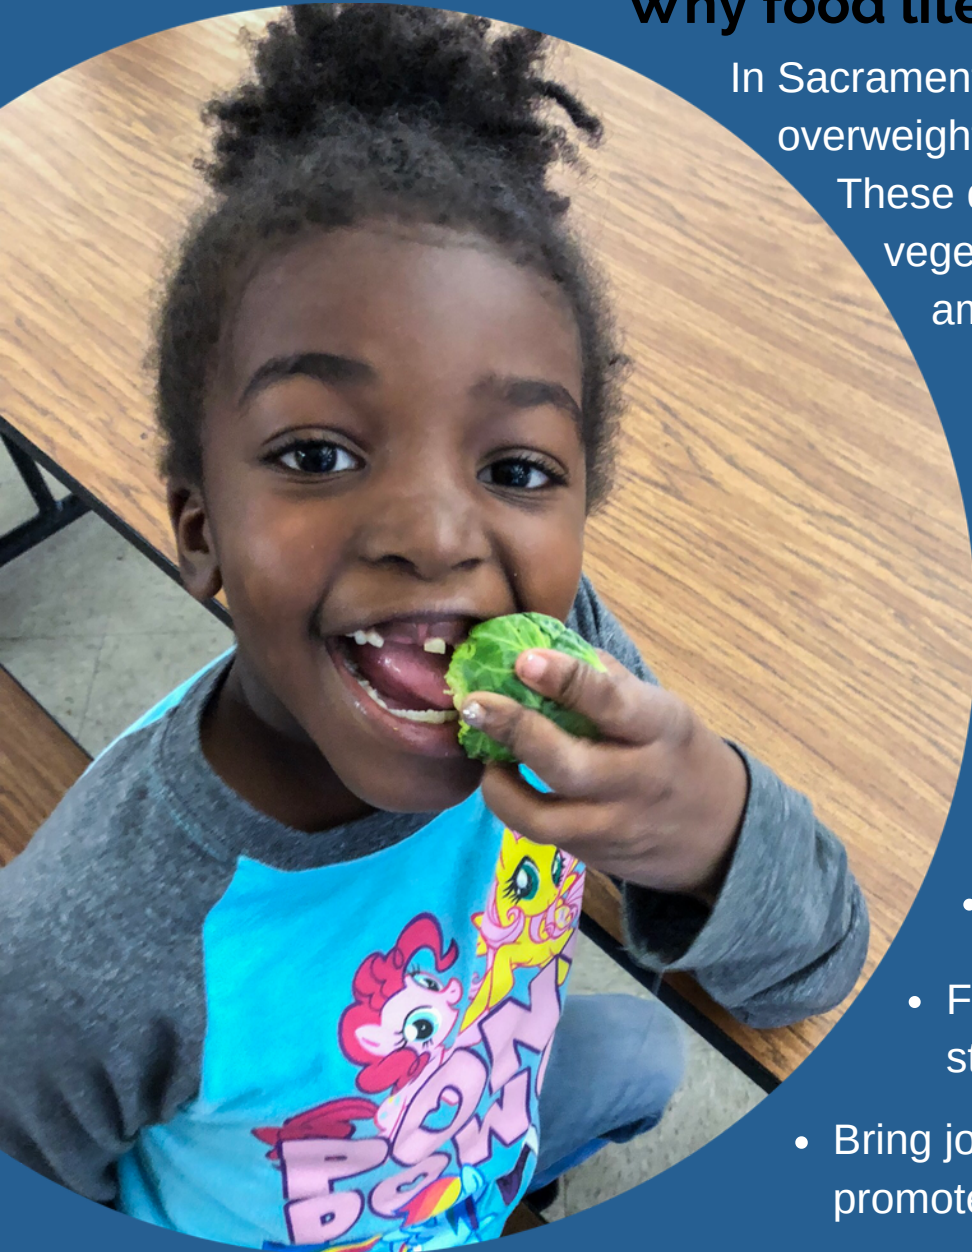

Why food literacy is needed:

In Sacramento, 40% of children suffer from childhood obesity or are overweight. This directly increases their risk for Type 2 diabetes. These diet-related diseases are preventable if we eat our vegetables. Yet only 4% of kids are eating the recommended amount of fruits and veggies.

We work in low-income schools where students are at highest risk for diet-related diseases. Most of them are food and nutrition insecure.

How we help kids:

- Serve Title 1 schools in the Sacramento City Unified School District, focusing on South Sacramento
- Free, online cooking and nutrition classes
- Inspire kids to eat their vegetables
- Fresh produce distribution to food and nutrition insecure students and their families
- Bring joy and trauma-informed food literacy teaching approach to promote resilience

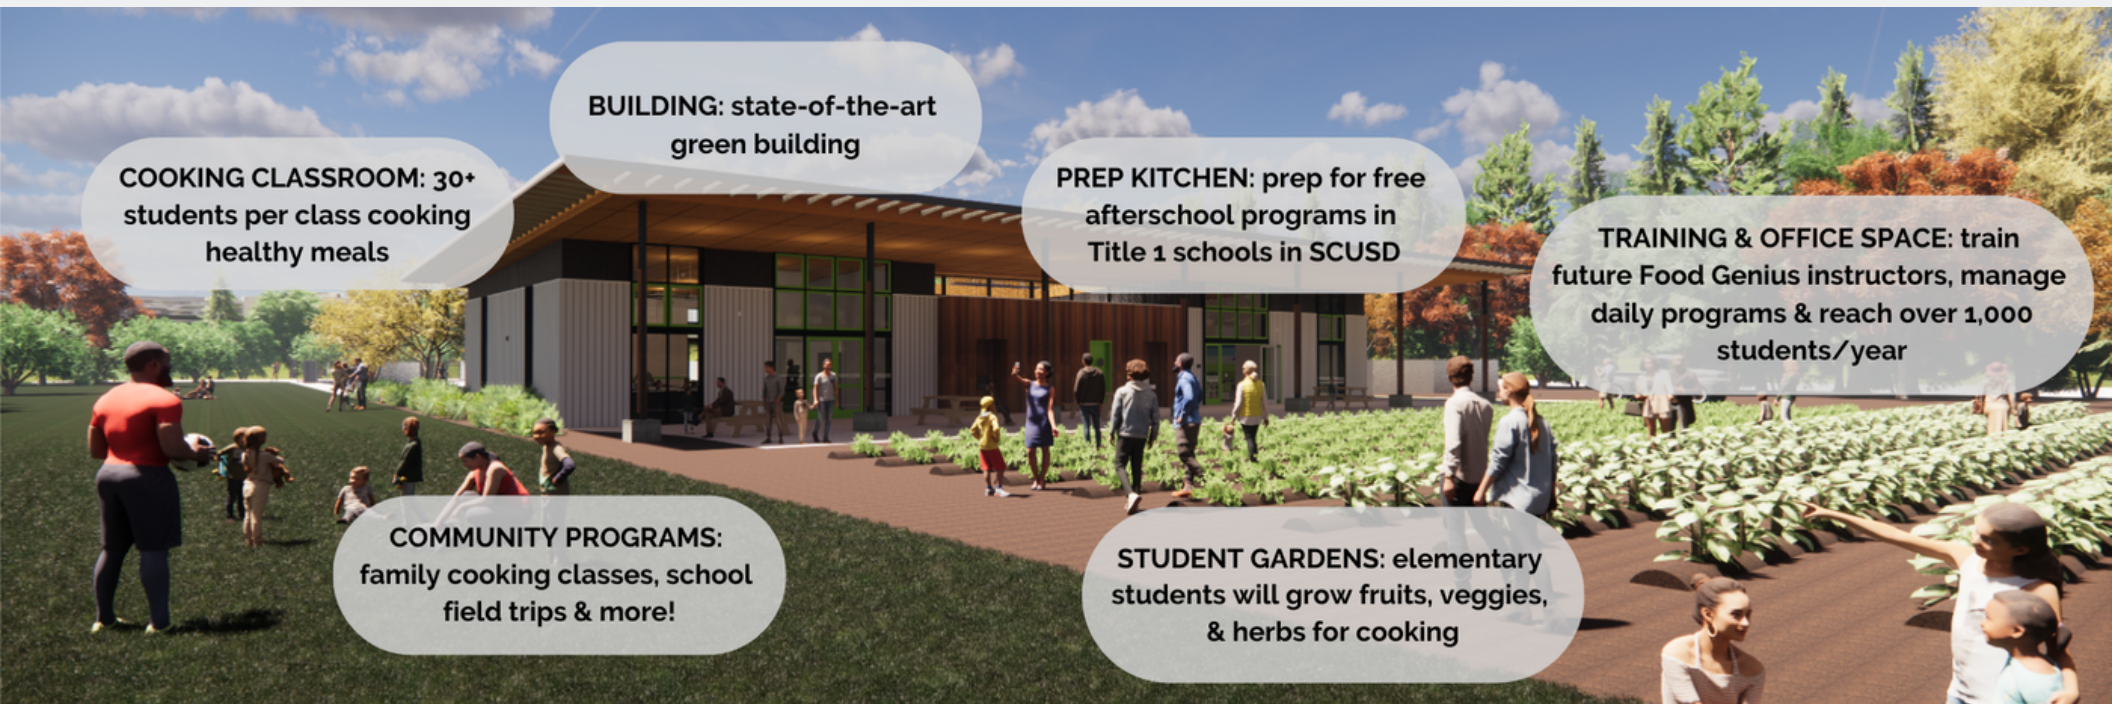

Cooking School & Headquarters

Our new center is coming soon! Floyd Farms at Leataata Floyd Elementary will be home to a city-run community garden, Food Literacy Center's cooking school and headquarters, and student gardens managed by our program staff.

This ambitious and first-of-its-kind project is in partnership with the Sacramento City Unified School District (SCUSD), the City of Sacramento, and The Mill at Broadway, which neighbors the school campus.

Your support will be a substantial investment in an underserved community, bringing hands-on cooking education to thousands of children and community members.

The best part? The building is being paid for by developer fees, not with donations. The new space allows us to increase our free programs--so we are asking for your support.

Future Cooking School

Food Literacy
Center founded

2011

1st Food Literacy
Academy trains
Food Geniuses

2013

School board
unanimously names
Food Literacy Center
as operator of cooking
school and student gardens at
Floyd Farms

2016

First project
renderings shared & onsite tours

2018

YOU can be part of the project! Please help
with donations
and equipment.

Food literacy classes
begin in new space!

Free food literacy
classes continue
in afterschool
programs across the district.

2020+

2015 Strategic
conversations with SCUSD, The Mill at Broadway & the City of Sacramento

Letters of support
from leaders like
Alice Waters

Trained by Edible
Schoolyard Project
& Sage Garden
Project

2017
HMC Architects
selected to build the SCUSD Central Kitchen and
agreed to design
our center
pro-bono

2019 Architectural
drawings
complete, submitted
for permits
Groundbreaking
in September

2012
September is named
Food Literacy Month
by CA Assembly
& Senate

foodliteracycenter.org

Gold Sponsor - $2,500

Recognition at Ribbon Cutting, Estimated Fall 2021

- Verbal recognition at event
- Listed onsite at event
- Listed in event program
- Listed on event website and e-blasts

Ongoing Recognition

- Listed on recognition pizza paddle
- Listed 2 times in social networking campaigns
- Listed on our funders page on our website
- Listed in our 2021-22 Annual Report

Funds support Food Literacy Center's mission of inspiring kids to eat their vegetables through free afterschool programs in low-income schools.

Silver Sponsor - $1,000

Recognition at Ribbon Cutting, Estimated Fall 2021

- Listed onsite at event
- Listed in event program
- Listed on event website and e-blasts

Ongoing Recognition

- Listed on recognition donor wall
- Listed on our funders page on our website
- Listed in our 2021-22 Annual Report

Bronze Sponsor - $500

Recognition at Ribbon Cutting, Estimated Fall 2021

- Listed in event program
- Listed on event website
- Listed in one e-blast

Ongoing Recognition

- Listed on recognition donor wall

Funds support Food Literacy Center's mission of inspiring kids to eat their vegetables through free afterschool programs in low-income schools.

Become a Sponsor

Your partnership will allow us to continue our mission, and to expand our free programs to reach more kids in Sacramento. Together, we are creating a healthier future for kids!

We'll work with you to create a sponsorship package that fits your needs!

Jaime Wilson

Brand & Development Director

jaime@foodliteracycenter.org

